LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

STATE OF MISSOURI Public Service Commission.

Jefferson City, January 14, 1917.

To His Excellency, FREDERICK D. GARDNER, Governor of Missouri:

Dear Sir: I have the honor to transmit herewith the Fifth Annual Report of the Public Service Commission, for the year beginning December 1, 1916, and ending November 30, 1917.

Very respectfully yours,
WM. G. BUSBY, Chairman.

STATE OF MISSOURI

FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION.

The Fifth Annual report of the Commission covers the period for the year ended November 30, 1917. Each year has shown a wonderful development in the prompt and satisfactory handling of both routine and formal matters. The volume of business shows an increase of the public utilities operating in Missouri and indicates a steady, conservative growth of things material which go to make up the financial and commercial worth of the community at large. Just what effect the war will have, or what other conditions may arise to cause marked changes in the construction and operation of public utilities remains to be seen. As this year closes, the work of the general office continues to increase but the disposition of matters, whether formal or informal, is handled with the same promptness as when the volume was considerably less.

HISTORICAL.

GENERAL OFFICE.

Full minutes of each session of the Commission make up the history of its detailed work. All letters, reports, orders, general or special, of necessity pass through the general office and over the Secretary's desk for his attention and signature.

Each department, of which there are five—engineering, accounting, railroad and express rates, telephone and telegraph; electric light, heat and water,—furnishes its complete report in the pages following. In addition to these, the legal department has a full resume of litigation instituted, disposed of and pending; and the reporter of the Commission's opinion and orders includes his statement of publications prepared and issued under his direction.

As a matter of history, the moving into the new Capitol was effected without confusion and without material loss of time in pursuing the regular course of business. For the first time since its organization the Commissioners and all employes are now so situated that the duties of the entire department can be carried forward promptly and satisfactorily, and by the time the next annual report is issued the result of such conditions will be evidenced in the increased efficiency of the work performed.

Special attention is called to the departmental reports, of which mention has been heretofore made.

FORMAL SESSIONS OF THE COMMISSION.

In addition to the daily executive sessions and conferences of the Commission at the office in Jefferson City, formal sessions, lasting from one hour to several days, have been held in 218 cases in the regular hearing room of the Commission, and 70 sessions at points out in the State designated in formal notice and order to all interested parties. In many instances only one Commissioner heard the testimony, making report to the full membership, with complete transcript of the evidence filed. Argument before the entire Commission usually completes the record, making the case ready for final disposition. The more important cases are heard before the entire Commission and handled at every step by the full membership.

SPECIAL AUTHORITIES.

Special authorities carrying with them permission to the utility named to put into effect rates set out therein on less than statutory notice were issued from time to time, the number and classes involved being as follows:

For Railroads and Express Companies.....	95
For Telephone Companies.....	16
For Gas Companies.....	1
For Electric Companies.....	42
For Water Companies.....	1
Total.....	155

This action was taken when conditions arose which made immediate permission necessary, or where, after full investigation, the rates theretofore filed were found to be satisfactory to utility and people alike.

FORMAL CASES DOCKETED.

Formal cases docketed during the period covered by this report numbered 272, divided into complaints and applications, as indicated by their nature.

With complaints the rules of practice and procedure require that copy be at once served on defendants, with order to satisfy or answer within ten days. On receipt of the answer, the complaint is immediately listed as ready for hearing, date is fixed and formal hearing had, with report and order of the Commission following in due course. One hundred and ninety-eight of these formal matters have been finally disposed of, leaving but seventy-four pending, of which number a majority have been heard and are ready for final action.

CORRESPONDENCE COMPLAINTS.

Informal matters that can be handled by correspondence are numbered, docketed and pressed to conclusion by the heads of the several departments. Three hundred and thirty-two of these cases have been carried through the regular channel, of which 255 have been finally disposed of and 77 remain for action after the investigation is completed.

These complaints cover a wide field of service, including excessive rates and charges by all classes of public utilities, delay in handling, failure to extend connections as desired, etc. In most instances satisfactory settlement is effected, but where that is found impossible complainants are asked to file formal complaint if further action by the Commission is desired. Each complaint is handled separately and if necessary a personal inspection and report is made by one or more representatives of the Commission.

LEGAL DEPARTMENT.

This Department, constituted as heretofore, consists of the General Counsel and Assistant Counsel to the Commission, and one stenographer.

The Department has tried or otherwise pressed to final disposition nearly all of the large number of court review proceedings, which were pending in the Circuit and Supreme courts at the beginning of the present year. In addition to the work of preparing transcripts and returns in these cases, trying, arguing and briefing them, the Department, at the direction of the Commission, has appeared on behalf of the public in a large number of proceedings before the Commission. Among the more important of these cases are: The General Passenger Rate Increase Case; The Mississippi & Bonne Terre Railway Company Passenger Rate Increase Case; The Maitland Switch Case; The St. Louis Bell Telephone Rate Increase Case; The Columbia Gas Case; The Kansas City Railways Increase of Capital Stock Case; The Kansas City, Clay County & St. Joseph Railway Valuation Case; and others.

The Department has also prepared and rendered a large number of oral and written legal opinions, when directed to do so by the Commission or upon the request of the various Departments.

The following is a complete list of all cases now pending or disposed of in the courts during the period of this report:

General Rate Cases: Cases Nos. 492 to 505, inclusive. On September 15, 1914, applications, alike in form and allegation, praying an increase in intrastate passenger, baggage and freight rates were filed with the Commission by fourteen carriers, viz.; The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway Company; Chicago & Alton Railroad Company; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company; Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway Company; John Scullin, Jesse McDonald and W. S. Holt, receivers of the railroad and property of the Missouri & North Arkansas Railroad Company; Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company; Kansas City Southern Railway Company; St. Louis Southwestern Railway Company; Edward B. Prior, receiver of the railroad and property of the Wabash Railroad Company; Iowa & St. Louis Railway Company; Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway Company; Quincy, Omaha & Kansas City Railway Company; Missouri Pacific Railway Company and St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railway Company; and James W. Lusk, William C. Nixon and William B. Biddle, receivers of the railroad and property of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad Company. Afterwards, on motion of the Quincy, Omaha & Kansas City Railway Company and John Scullin, Jesse McDonald and W. S. Holt, receivers of the railroad and property of the Missouri & North Arkansas Railroad Company, the applications of these two roads were dismissed, leaving the remaining twelve railroads to be affected by the orders of the Commission in such rate cases. The twelve applications were consolidated and heard and determined together by the Commission, and witnesses were examined and evidence heard by the Commission in behalf of the applicants and also in behalf of the Commission, shippers, passengers and the public, at hearings held at Jefferson City and other points in the State, at which hearings the counsel for the Commission appeared and offered evidence on behalf of the Commission and also filed briefs and argued the cases on behalf of the Commission. The taking of evidence extended from December 2, 1914, to June 18, 1915, and on November 10, 1915, the Commission handed down its decision and order fixing maximum passenger, baggage and freight rates to be thereafter charged by the twelve carriers, parties to the proceeding. Applications for rehearing were filed by the twelve carriers, and also by M. E. Rhodes, on behalf of himself and other passengers and shippers, and by others.

All of these applications were denied by the Commission. On January 21, 1916, M. E. Rhodes filed his petition for a writ of certiorari in the Cole County Circuit Court, by which the Public Service Commission and the several railroads affected by the order of the Commission were made respondents. Upon this petition the court ordered the record of the Commission certified for appropriate action, and thereafter the suit was dismissed as to all respondents except the Commission and the members thereof, and the Chicago & Alton Railroad Company; these remaining parties thereupon stipulated as to certain facts, and, among other things, made the opinion and order of the Commission a part of the record in the cause, and thereupon the cause was submitted to the court for hearing "on the pleadings, stipulation of the parties and the opinion and order of the Commission." The trial court adjudged that "the finding, opinion and order of the Public Service Commission of Missouri, in controversy herein, as made and entered on the 10th day of November, 1915, as modified on the 28th day of December, 1915, and on the 17th day of January, 1916, be and the same is set aside and for naught held by the court."

After unsuccessfully moving for a new trial, the respondents duly appealed to the Supreme Court. The Chicago & Alton Railroad Company and the Commission filed separate briefs for respondents at the October Term, 1916, of the Supreme Court, and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway Company filed its brief amicus curiae. The cause was also orally argued and submitted at the October Term, 1916.

April 9, 1917, the Supreme Court rendered its decision holding that the Commission Act, Section 47, authorizing the Commission to fix just and reasonable rates, confers authority to raise railroad rates above the maximum fixed by the Legislature by Laws 1905, page 102, as amended by Laws 1907, page 171; that the delegation of such administrative function to the Commission was not prohibited by the provisions of Section 14, Article 12, of the Missouri Constitution. This was the sole point for decision in this case, and the result settles definitely the question of the Commission's power and the limits of that power to authoritatively prescribe intrastate railroad rates.

Kansas Natural Gas Case: A suit by John M. Landon et al., receivers of the Kansas Natural Gas Company, v. The Public Utilities Commission of Kansas, The Public Service Commission of Missouri, St. Joseph, Weston, Kansas City, Deerfield, Nevada, Carl Junction, Oronogo and Joplin, Missouri, et al., in the United States District Court at Topeka, Kansas, to enjoin the defendants from interfering with the company fixing its rates for natural gas.

In April, 1916, the application of the receivers for an interlocutory injunction was heard before Federal Judges Sanborn, Booth and Campbell at Kansas City, Kansas.

The hearing was adjourned to St. Paul, Minnesota, and concluded in May, 1916. The Commission, through the Legal Department, filed an answer and was represented in the oral argument on granting of interlocutory injunction. An interlocutory injunction was granted by the Federal Court, restraining and enjoining the Kansas Public Utilities Commission from enforcing the 28c gas rate previously fixed and established by that body. The Federal Court, however, refused to enter an injunctive order against the Missouri Commission.

Thereafter the receivers filed a supplemental petition alleging that the Missouri Commission had, since the entering of the injunction order aforesaid, instituted proceedings and taken steps to prevent the said receivers from charging and collecting an adequate rate for gas supplied in different cities in western Missouri, and praying that the injunction be extended to apply to the Missouri Commission.

The Commission filed its answer to such supplemental petition. On October 11, 1916, a hearing was begun before Federal Judge Booth at Kansas City, Kansas, on the supplemental petition and on the application of the receivers for a permanent injunction.

At that time the court gave considerable attention to certain negotiations and conferences held by representatives of the various parties in an endeavor to secure some agreement which might dispose of the controversy. This effort failing, the hearing was begun and by order of the court the issues between plaintiff and the Kansas City defendants were first taken up. This hearing lasted many days, and was adjourned from time to time. On account of the close relation between the respective Kansas and Missouri defendants, it was thought best that someone from the Legal Department should attend, in view of the importance of the hearing to the Public Service Commission of Missouri. The court in May, 1917, made its findings as against the Kansas defendants, holding the rate fixed by the Public Utilities Commission of Kansas to be confiscatory, and holding also that the business of selling natural gas in Kansas by the plaintiff was interstate commerce, and was not subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission of that State. The Kansas Commission applied for and was granted an appeal from that decision to the Supreme Court of the United States. No order or judgment was entered at that time against the Missouri defendants, but the Federal Judge sitting in the case, Judge Wilbur F. Booth of Minneapolis, had stated from the bench that he would not permit the rates put into effect by the Receiver to be interfered with by either of the Commissions. It was thought best by the Commission, its Counsel and the other Missouri defendants, to secure a final hearing as to the Missouri defendants as speedily as possible. The cause as to those defendants was taken up for hearing on the 5th day of July, 1917, and much testimony taken. On August 13, 1917, the court entered its final degree, holding that the sale of natural gas in Missouri is interstate commerce, and not subject to the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission, and granted a permanent injunction against the Public Service Commission of Missouri and all the other defendants, enjoining them against interfering with the rates and regulations of the plaintiff, John M. Landon, Receiver.

The Legal Department was represented at all times in this hearing, and joined in making and filing of the brief on behalf of the Missouri defendants. An appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States was applied for in due time on behalf of the Public Service Commission and the cities of Kansas City, St. Joseph and Joplin. The application was presented to Judge Wilbur F. Booth, the Judge who tried the case, on the 31st day of October, 1917, at Minneapolis, Minnesota. On the 8th day of November, following, the order was made granting the appeal as prayed for. The statement of facts necessary to present the issues and necessary to be prepared by appellants under the Federal practice, has been prepared and on December 15, 1917, such statements along with the objections and suggested amendments of the appellees, was presented to Judge Wilbur F. Booth, at Minneapolis, Minnesota, and said statement was at that time settled and approved by him, and will be made a part of the record in said appeal.

It is the purpose of the Legal Department to ask that the appeal be advanced to as early a hearing as can be obtained.

St. Joseph Gas Case: Cases Nos. 293, 455 and 533. In these cases, the Commission after ascertaining the valuation and operating expenses of the St. Joseph Gas Company, denied its application for an increase in rates for natural gas at St. Joseph, Missouri. The gas company filed its intervening bill in the suit of the Kansas Natural Gas Company in the Federal Court, asking that the order of the Commission denying it an increased rate be declared unlawful and confiscatory of its property, and the Commission be restrained from interfering with the putting into effect of an increased rate.

This intervention proceeding was heard as a part of the hearing in the Kansas Natural Gas Company injunction case at St. Paul, Minnesota, on May 26, 1916. The Federal Court denied the prayer of such intervening bill and dismissed the intervention proceeding. Thereafter, the St. Joseph Gas Company filed in the U. S. District Court, Western District of Missouri, its separate bill for injunction against the enforcement of the orders in cases Nos. 293, 455 and 533, and after the filing of an answer by the Commission the case was heard before Federal Judges Sanborn, Campbell and Booth at St. Paul, Minnesota, on June 27, 1916. The Federal Court at that time denied the application for interlocutory injunction without prejudice to the right of the gas company to make a further application for such injunction, and by its written opinion indicated that such injunction would be granted upon additional evidence. The gas company served notice of the renewal of its application for interlocutory injunction, and thereupon the Legal Department instituted an action to stay the proceeding in the Federal Court, under the provisions of Section 266 of the Federal Judicial Code, by the filing on July 27, 1916, of a proceeding in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, for a writ of mandamus to compel the gas company to recognize and obey the orders of the Commission.

On the hearing of the second application in the Federal Court at Council Bluffs, Iowa, before Judges Smith, Booth and Campbell, on July 28, 1916, the Commission's plea in abatement and application for the staying of the proceeding in the Federal Court pending the determination of similar issues raised in the mandamus proceeding in the circuit court, was sustained. The mandamus proceeding in the Cole County Circuit Court is now pending. This case will probably become a moot case, because of the almost total failure of the supply of natural gas, available for St. Joseph.

Union Pacific Fee Case: Case No. 490, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County as State ex rel. Union Pacific R. R. Co. v. Public Service Commission. A proceeding to review in the courts an order of the Commission assessing fees in the sum of $10,962.25, in favor of the State under the Public Service Commission law for the approval by the Commission of a bond issue by the Union Pacific Railroad Company in the sum of $31,848,900.00; argued and submitted in the Circuit Court of Cole County, June 29, 1915. The decision and order of the Commission was reversed by the Circuit Court on November 19, 1915, and thereupon the case was appealed by the Commission to the Supreme Court of the State. At the April Term, 1916, of the Supreme Court, the cause was argued and submitted, and thereafter the Supreme Court rendered its decision reversing the judgment of the Circuit Court and directing it to enter its judgment affirming the order of the Commission, fixing its fee at $10,962.25, as aforesaid. From this decision of the Supreme Court, the Union Pacific Railroad Company has appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States by the suing out of a writ of error. The railway company has filed and served its appeal record, and the Legal Department is advised that the cause will be reached by the Supreme Court at the October Term, 1918. The fee in controversy was paid into the State Treasury by the railroad in 1915, under protest.

Union Pacific Bond Case: Case No. 1072, styled in the Circuit Court of Jackson County as Public Service Commission et al. v. Union Pacific Railroad Company. On September 8, 1916, the Union Pacific Railroad Company filed its bill of complaint in equity in the United States District Court, Western District of Missouri, Western Division, by which it alleged its purpose to issue and sell its reserved bonds in the face amount of $2,250,000, and to secure such bonds by an encumbrance on its property. Alleging that the statutes and rules and regulations under which the Commission exercised supervision and regulation over such bond issues were unconstitutional, it prayed the Federal Court to restrain the Commission and its counsel from interfering with its proposed bond issues and encumbrances. On September 12, 1916, the Commission by order directed the counsel to institute a proceeding in the State court to compel observance by the said Union Pacific Railroad Company of the Public Service Commission law in respect to its said bond issues and liens. On September 23, 1916, the Legal Department filed a petition for mandamus in the Jackson County Circuit Court, and an alternative writ was accordingly issued commanding the Union Pacific Railroad Company to comply with and obey the provisions of the Public Service Commission law or to show cause for failure so to do. After the filing of this petition and the issuance of the alternative writ, a motion for a stay or abatement of the proceeding in the Federal Court, pending decision of the cause in the State court, was filed by the Commission in the Federal Court. Since the filing of said motion or plea in abatement, the Union Pacific Railroad Company has not urged a hearing of its bill of complaint in the Federal Court. The application for mandamus in the State court has been superseded by the filing of a new petition for injunction against said Union Pacific Railroad Company in the same court, on the same grounds as those alleged in the application for mandamus. On November 10, 1916, the cause was heard and submitted in the State court. Judgment in the Circuit Court was for defendant. Thereupon, the Commission perfected its appeal to the Supreme Court and the cause was there argued and submitted at the April, 1917, Term. On June 30, 1917, the court rendered decision. The court was divided as to decision of the various issues, a majority concurring only in the result, which is the affirmance of the Circuit Court judgment.

Columbia Gas Case: Cases Nos. 257 and 465, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County as State of Missouri ex rel. Watts Engineering Company, relator, v. Public Service Commission, respondent. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission valuing the property of the gas company and fixing gas rates at Columbia, Missouri. Decided by the Circuit Court of Cole County in favor of the Commission on August 17, 1915, and thereupon appealed by the gas company to the Supreme Court of the State. The case was briefed and argued and submitted in the Supreme Court at the October Term, 1915. On December 30, 1916, the Supreme Court rendered decision, affirming the Commission's order. This decision adds new strength and life to State regulation in Missouri. Holding that the Commission's finding that the Company's gas rates were exorbitant was justified, the Court also approved the Commission's test rates prescribed for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not additional demand and revenue would follow.

St. Joseph Grade Crossing Case. Nos. 301-3-4-5, 703, 704. This cause, styled State of Missouri, at the Relation of St. Joseph Railway, Light, Heat and Power Company, v. Public Service Commission, was instituted to review an order of the Commission apportioning to the said Railway Company $34,000 as its proper part of the total cost of an extensive plan of grade crossing improvements in the St. Joseph terminal district. The review proceeding was instituted on the 20th day of December, 1916, by the filing of petition for writ of certiorari. The Commission's return was filed January 26, 1917. On February 1, 1917, the St. Joseph Union Depot Company entered its appearance as a party defendant, and on the same day the Commission and the St. Joseph Union Depot Company filed motion to quash and dismiss writ of certiorari, which was the same day overruled. On April 7, 1917, the Circuit Court rendered judgment reversing the order and remanding the cause to the Public Service Commission. Thereupon, the Public Service Commission perfected its appeal from said judgment to the Supreme Court, where the cause was argued and submitted on briefs at the October Term, 1917. No decision has yet been rendered by the Supreme Court.

Missouri Valley Realty Company Case: In the case of Missouri Valley Realty Company, complainant, v. Cupples Station Light, Heat and Power Company and Phoenix Light, Heat and Power Company, defendants, and Union Electric Light and Power Company, intervener, case No. 269, the above named complainant procured a writ of review from the Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis for the purpose of reviewing the order of this Commission made in said cause on October 12, 1914. The decision and order of the Commission was affirmed by the Circuit Court in March, 1915, and the cause appealed to the Supreme Court. This cause was argued and submitted to the Supreme Court, Division No. 1, at the April Term, 1916. Decision of the Supreme Court was handed down in November, 1917, holding that the order of the Commission dismissing the complaint was properly entered, inasmuch as the relief sought was injunctive in its nature, and required the Commission to exercise a function, exclusively judicial.

Caruthersville Train Case: Case No. 577, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County as State ex rel. St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad Company v. Public Service Commission. A proceeding to review in the courts an order of the Commission relating to train service at Caruthersville; record transmitted to the Circuit Court, August 25, 1915. The order of the Commission was affirmed by the Circuit Court on November 15, 1915, and the case thereupon appealed by the railroad company to the Supreme Court of the State. This case was briefed and argued and submitted at the April Term, 1916. On December 1, 1916, the Supreme Court rendered an opinion in Division One, reversing the Commission's order. Later, one of the Judges of Division One, voting to sustain the Commission's motion for a rehearing, the cause was transferred to Court in banc, and there re-argued at the October, 1917, Term. At this hearing Judge Faris elected not to sit, and the Court thereafter failed to agree upon a decision, because of an equal division, and notified counsel to select by agreement a Special Judge to sit at a further re-argument at the coming January Call in banc.

Joplin and Carthage Sleeping Car Case: Case No. 730, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, as the Missouri Pacific Railway Company, and Benjamin F. Bush, receiver of the property of the Missouri Pacific Railway Company, plaintiffs, v. John M. Atkinson et al., members of the Public Service Commission of Missouri, defendants. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission requiring the said railway company and receiver thereof to operate sleeping cars between St. Louis, Missouri, and Carthage and Joplin, Missouri, and intermediate points. A writ of certiorari has been issued in said case by the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, dated December 31, 1915, and made returnable on or before the 1st day of February, 1916, directing the Commission to return its record and proceedings in said cause for review by the court.

The case was duly argued and submitted to the Circuit Court, which affirmed the order of the Commission, and thereupon the railroad company perfected its appeal to the Supreme Court. The case was briefed, argued and submitted in the Supreme Court at the October Term, 1916. On January 29, 1917, the Court rendered its decision, sustaining the Commission's order in all things; that the order was not necessarily unreasonable because entailing an operating loss on a branch line when considered alone, and not as a feeder to main line traffic.

Sunny Slope Train Service Case: Case No. 639, styled in the Circuit Court of Jackson County, Division No. 8, as State ex rel. Kansas City, Clay County and St. Joseph Railway Company v. Public Service Commission. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission requiring the railway company to stop certain of its through electric interurban cars at the station of Sunny Slope, in Platte County. On May 29, 1916, the case was orally argued before the Judge of Division No. 8, Jackson County Circuit Court. On June 24, 1916, the order of the Commission was reversed by the judgment of the Circuit Court. The Commission, being of opinion that complainants now are satisfied with the service rendered by the Railway, directed counsel to dismiss the appeal in the Supreme Court, which has been done.

Osage County Spur Track Case: Case No. 835, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County as George Sting et al., relators, v. Public Service Commission et al., respondents. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission denying the application of George Sting et al., for an order requiring the Missouri Pacific Railway Company to construct a sidetrack or spur near Isbel station, in Osage County, Missouri. The Commission, on June 29, 1916, certified its record and proceedings to the Circuit Court, and on July 24, 1916, the cause was argued and submitted to the Circuit Court. Thereafter, the Circuit Court rendered judgment, affirming the Commission's order. No appeal has been taken therefrom.

Buffum Telephone Case: Case No. 773, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, as Buffum Telephone Company, plaintiff, v. Public Service Commission, defendant. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission establishing long distance connection from Auxvasse, Missouri, to Fulton, Missouri. On December 16, 1916, the cause was tried, argued and submitted to the Cole County Circuit Court, and on June 8, 1917, the Court rendered judgment setting aside and reversing the Commission's order.

Appeal was perfected by the Legal Department to the Supreme Court, and the cause there argued and submitted in banc, on October 29, 1917. No opinion has yet been rendered.

Baggage Storage Case: Case No. 794, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, as Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway Company et al., plaintiffs, v. Public Service Commission, defendant. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission amending the rules of carriers relative to the storage of baggage. On July 24, 1916, the Circuit Court rendered its judgment, affirming the order of the Commission. The plaintiffs applied for and were granted an appeal to the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court, on February 13, 1917, held that the order was unreasonable, discriminatory against interstate travelers, and should be set aside and vacated.

Coal Rate Case: Case No. 814, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, as State ex rel. B. F. Bush, receiver of the Missouri Pacific Railway Company, relator, v. Public Service Commission et al., respondents. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission fixing rates for shipments on coal over the Iron Mountain and Missouri Pacific Railways. The cause was submitted on oral arguments and briefs September 1, 1916. Before decision, the Railway moved to dismiss its proceeding.

Columbia Telephone Case: Cases No. 69 and 282, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County as State of Missouri ex rel. Columbia Telephone Company v. Public Service Commission. A proceeding to review in the courts an order of the Commission valuing the property of the telephone company and fixing telephone rates in the city of Columbia, Missouri. The decision and order of the Commission were affirmed by the Circuit Court of Cole County on December 4, 1915, and the case was thereupon appealed by the telephone company to the Supreme Court of the State.

This cause was continued at two successive terms of the Supreme Court because of the illness and death of counsel for the telephone company, Honorable W. M. Williams.

After argument and submission of the cause, the Supreme Court rendered decision on April 10, 1917, sustaining the Commission's order in part and reversing it in part. The valuation fixed by the Commission was not disturbed, the Court holding that since the rates of the Company were determined by the Commission to be reasonable, in view of the valuation found and prescribed, the Company could not complain of such valuation. Other portions of the Commission's order dealing with regulation and incidental charges were affirmed, and others reversed.

During the pendency of the review proceeding a very considerable sum collected by the Company through operation of these incidental charges was impounded by the Cole County Circuit Court, and after the Supreme Court decision, the Circuit Court, upon application of the Legal Department, caused the distribution of this fund to the persons who had paid it to the Company.

West St. Louis Water Case: Case No. 466, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, as West St. Louis Water & Light Company v. Public Service Commission. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission fixing the valuation of the water plant of the West St. Louis Water & Light Company. After argument and submission of this case in the Circuit Court, the valuation order of the Commission was affirmed, and the water company perfected its appeal to the Supreme Court. There, the cause was argued and submitted on briefs at the April, 1917, Term, and the Supreme Court, following its decision in the Columbia Telephone Case, held that the question of the reasonableness and lawfulness of the Commission's valuation order need not be reviewed, since it had not reduced the company's rates.

Moberly Viaduct Case: Case No. 491, styled in the Circuit Court of Randolph County, Missouri, as State ex rel. Missouri, Kansas & Texas Ry. Co. et al. v. Public Service Commission et al. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission requiring the construction of a viaduct by the Wabash and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway companies in Moberly, Missouri. This review proceeding was brought by the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway Company. The trial of this cause resulted in an affirmance of the Commission's order in the Circuit Court. The Railway Company appealed to the Supreme Court, and on June 30, 1917, that court affirmed the judgment of the Circuit Court. The principal and important issue decided, was that a contract between a city and a railroad for separating the grades of a street and the road at a crossing by constructing a subway, whereby it was agreed that if the bridge or supports were changed it should be by mutual consent, the city and the road each paying half the cost, was void as against public policy, as limiting the exercise of its police power by the state.

Moberly Viaduct Case: Case No. 491, styled in the Circuit Court of Randolph County, Missouri, as State ex rel. Wabash Railway Co. v. Public Service Commission. This is a companion review proceeding to the case of State ex rel. Missouri, Kansas & Texas Ry. Co. v. Public Service Commission, brought by the Wabash Railway Company. This case was submitted to the Supreme Court, with its companion case, just mentioned, and the same decision made applicable to it.

Structural Steel Rate Case: Case No. 757, styled in the Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis, as State ex rel. Missouri Pacific Railway Co., Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway Company etc., plaintiffs, v. Public Service Commission et al., defendants. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission fixing the rates for the carriage of structural steel between St. Louis and Kansas City, Missouri. On October 20, 1916, the cause was submitted on oral arguments and briefs to the Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis, Division No. 14. Thereafter, the Court rendered judgment affirming the Commission's order. No appeal therefrom has been perfected by the carriers.

Missouri Southern Case: The Missouri Southern Railroad Company, a corporation engaged in owning and operating a line of steam railroad in this State more than forty-five miles in length, on the 1st day of July, 1913, filed with the Public Service Commission a complaint in writing, Case No. 52, stating that the rates being charged by it were the maximum rates as fixed by the statutes of this State and that said rates were confiscatory, and asking that the Public Service Commission make an order authorizing said railroad Company to charge rates and fares in excess of those fixed by the statutes.

The Commission, on April 29, 1914, by an order made and entered on record, refused to hear the complaint and dismissed the same upon the ground that the Commission had no authority or power to authorize an increase in the rates above the maximum prescribed by the statutes of this State. Thereupon, the Missouri Southern Railroad Company applied to the Supreme Court of Missouri for a writ of mandamus to compel the Public Service Commission to hear its said complaint. The case was heard before the Supreme Court en banc in May, 1914. Counsel to the Public Service Commission filed a brief and made an argument in behalf of the Commission. The case was decided by the Supreme Court in July thereafter. The court held the Public Service Commission, under section 47 and other sections of the Public Service Commission law, had authority to authorize an increase in rates and charges by railroad companies above the rates and charges named as maximum charges by the statutes of this State, and that a writ of mandamus should issue requiring the Public Service Commission to hear the complaint of the Missouri Southern Railroad Company. State of Missouri ex rel. Missouri Southern Railroad Company v. Public Service Commission, 168 S. W. 1156. Hearing of the testimony before the Commission has been completed and a decision and order fixing rates was made November 10, 1915.

A writ of review was sued out of the Cole County Circuit Court by the railroad company, and the Commission on July 5, 1916, certified its full record and proceedings to the Circuit Court. A hearing of the cause in the circuit court was continued pending the decision of the case of State ex rel. Rhodes v. Commission et al., in the Supreme Court.

The cause was argued and submitted on briefs in the Circuit Court in July, 1917. The question raised by the Railway as to the reasonableness of the passenger rates under review was not presented. Inasmuch as the Commission has, since the institution of this proceeding in the Circuit Court, given further consideration to the Railway's rates and provided other and higher rates, it is probable that the case will never be pressed to final judgment.

Missouri Southern Continuous Mileage Case: Case No. 424, styled in the Cole County Circuit Court as Missouri Southern Railroad Company v. Busby et al. Certiorari proceeding to review an order of the Commission fixing and establishing maximum rates for the transportation of freight over two or more railways. This cause remained pending in the Circuit Court upon stipulation for continuance until decision in the Supreme Court of the General Rate Case. Since that time plaintiff Railway Company has never sought a hearing.

Rich Hill Track Scales Case: Case No. 956, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, as State ex rel. Mis-

Missouri Pacific Ry. Co. and B. F. Bush v. Public Service Commission. Cause was submitted to the Circuit Court on December 16, 1916, and decided on April 21, 1917, the order of the Commission being affirmed. The cause is now pending on the appeal of the Railway Company in the Supreme Court.

Bunceton Track Scales Case: Case No. 1002, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, as State ex rel. The Missouri Pacific Ry. Co. and B. F. Bush, Receiver, v. Public Service Commission. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission requiring The Missouri Pacific Railway Company to erect and maintain track scales at Bunceton, Missouri. Cause was submitted to the Circuit Court on December 16, 1916, and decided on April 21, 1917, the order of the Commission being affirmed. The cause is now pending in the Supreme Court, on the appeal of the Railway Company.

Fisk Railway Crossing Case: Case No. 795, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, as State ex rel. St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railway Company and Receiver v. Public Service Commission. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission requiring the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railway Company to construct a railroad crossing in the town of Fisk, Missouri. This case was dismissed by the Railway Company on April 13, 1917.

Sedalia Water Case: Cases Nos. 539 and 546, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, as State ex rel. City of Sedalia, relator, v. Public Service Commission, respondent. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission establishing rates for the supplying of water to the public by the City Water Company of Sedalia at Sedalia, Missouri. This cause was heard by the Cole County Circuit Court on July 27, 1917, and decided November 28, 1917, the order of the Commission being affirmed. The City has appealed to the Supreme Court.

This cause was dismissed by the plaintiff on April 13, 1917.

Carthage Spur Track Case: Case No. 719, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, as Southwest Missouri Railroad Co. v. Public Service Commission. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission denying the application of the Southwest Missouri Railroad Company for abandonment of the operation of its spur tracks in the city of Carthage, Missouri. The cause was heard by the Circuit Court on July 27, 1917, and judgment rendered on November 28, 1917, affirming the Commission's order. The Railway Company has appealed to the Supreme Court.

St. Louis Meter Rate Case: Case No. 969, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, as The City of St. Louis v. William G. Busby et al. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission requiring the removal of an alleged discrimination existing in the meter rates fixed by the City of St. Louis Water Department. A writ of certiorari was issued by the Cole County Circuit Court on the 21st day of November, 1916, requiring the Commission to certify its record and proceedings in this case to the said court on or before the 21st day of December, 1916.

The enactment of a law by the 49th General Assembly withdrawing from the regulation and control of the Commission municipally owned water plants caused this case to become a moot case, and it was dismissed by plaintiff on November 28, 1917.

California Train Service Case: Case No. 951, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, as State ex rel. Missouri Pacific Ry. Co. and Receiver v. Public Service Commission et al. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission requiring The Missouri Pacific Railway Company to stop certain trains at California, Missouri. After return and transcript had been filed by the Commission, and on April 21, 1917, the cause was heard before Hon. A. W. Walker as Special Judge, the regular judge having disqualified. On said day, the Court rendered judgment, reversing the Commission's order and remanding the cause to the Commission for modification of its finding. From this judgment the Commission has appealed to the Supreme Court.

Missouri Southern Mandamus Case: No. 1324, styled State of Missouri ex rel. Public Service Commission v. Missouri Southern Railroad Company, instituted by the filing of a petition for mandamus in the Circuit Court of Wayne County. The purpose of this suit was to require the Missouri Southern Railroad Company to continue the operation of two industrial spur tracks in Reynolds County until authority for the abandonment of such spur tracks had been secured from the State. A change of venue was taken to Jefferson County, and there, after two hearings and the submission of the cause on briefs, the Court issued a peremptory writ of mandamus on October 20, 1917, commanding and requiring the Missouri Southern to continue the operation of its two industrial spur tracks until authorized to abandon them by the State, through its administrative agency, the Public Service Commission. Appeal to the Supreme Court was granted the Railway Company.

Fulton Telephone Case: Nos. 739 and 852, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County as City of Fulton v. W. G. Busby et al. Certiorari to review an order of the Commission fixing rates to be charged by the Missouri Central Telephone Company for business and residence service in the City of Fulton. The Circuit Court on October 1, 1917, affirmed the order of the Commission and plaintiff applied for and was granted an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Milk Loading Case: No. 1125, styled in the Jefferson County Circuit Court as State of Missouri ex rel. Benj. F. Bush, Receiver of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railway Company, v. Public Service Commission, instituted to review an order of the Commission suspending new, individual rules governing the loading of milk and cream shipments handled on passenger trains of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railway between points in the State of Missouri. This cause was argued and submitted to the court on May 25, 1917, but the Court has deferred rendering decision from time to time since. The order of the Commission has not been suspended and remains in effect.

Missouri Pacific Tie Case: This suit grew out of a complaint made by certain dealers in railroad ties. It was represented that the Missouri Pacific Railway Company was refusing to furnish upon reasonable request, cars for the shipment of ties in carload lots, and had issued a notice to its agents not to furnish such cars, and particularly to certain firms in St. Louis and elsewhere. The Commission, being of the opinion that proceedings should be had under the summary remedies provided by the Act by way of mandamus or injunction to compel the Railway Company to furnish cars for the shipment of ties, and cease its alleged violation of the law, made an order directing the General Counsel and Assistant Counsel to bring suit for the purpose of having such violations stopped. Accordingly, on the 20th day of July, 1917, a suit for that purpose was filed in the Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis, and was assigned to Judge Vital W. Garesche. Judge Garesche issued a restraining order to the defendant Railway Company, directing it to furnish cars upon reasonable request for the shipment of ties, and enjoining it from refusing to furnish such cars until the 30th day of July, 1917, at which time also the defendant was ordered to appear and show cause why a temporary injunction could not be issued. On the 24th day of July, 1917, the Missouri Pacific Railway Company applied to the Supreme Court of Missouri for a Writ of Prohibition against Judge Garesche, alleging that he was without jurisdiction and was proceeding without jurisdiction in issuing said restraining order, and that he be prohibited from further proceeding in said cause. The provisional writ was issued out of the Supreme Court against Judge Garesche, and the cause in the Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis has not been tried, but awaits the result of said proceeding and prohibition in the Supreme Court.

Missouri Pacific Railway Suit in Prohibition. On July 24th, 1917, the Missouri Pacific Railway Company procured a provisional Writ of Prohibition from the Supreme Court of Missouri against Vital W. Garesche, Judge of the Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis, prohibiting him from further proceeding in the case of State ex rel. Public Service Commission of Missouri, plaintiff, v. Missouri Pacific Railway Company, defendant, filed on July 20, 1917, said writ being issued upon the allegation that the Public Service Commission had ordered suit to be filed and had procured a restraining order against the Railway Company without giving any notice to the Railway Company. The application for the writ of prohibition is based mainly upon the assertion that Section 64, upon which the suit in the Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis is bottomed, is a special proceeding to be strictly followed and that it does not permit the Circuit Court to issue a restraining order or grant a temporary writ of injunction. Return was duly made to the writ, and the cause set down for hearing at the October Term, 1917, of the Supreme Court. The Legal Department filed a brief, and also represented the respondent and the views of the Public Service Commission in oral argument at the hearing which was had on October 27, 1917. The court has not yet handed down a decision.

Kansas City Railways Fee Case: Case No. 810, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, as State ex rel. Kansas City Railways Company v. Public Service Commission. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission assessing its fees at $9,913 for the approval of an issuance of bonds by the Kansas City Railways Company. On September 13, 1916, the Railways Company sued out its writ of certiorari or review, and on October 13, 1916, the Commission duly filed its return of transcript in obedience to the writ. The cause was heard in the Circuit Court, and that Court on June 29, 1917, affirmed the Commission's order. Appeal to the Supreme Court was perfected by the Company, and the case there argued and submitted on briefs at the October Term, 1917. No decision has been rendered.

Kansas City Light and Power Company Fee Case: Case No. 810, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, as State ex rel. Kansas City Light and Power Company v. Public Service Commission. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission assessing its fee at $2,988 for the approval of an issuance of bonds by the Kansas City Light & Power Company. On September 13, 1916, the light and power company had issued out of the Cole County Circuit Court a writ of certiorari or review, and on October 13, 1916, the Commission duly filed its return and transcript. The light and power company has paid into the State Treasury the fee assessed, under protest. The cause is by stipulation of the parties, pending in the Circuit Court, awaiting the result of the Kansas City Railways Fee Case, the issues in the two cases being identical.

Macon Depot Case: Case No. 191, styled in the Circuit Court of Macon County as State ex rel. Wabash Railroad Company et al. v. Public Service Commission. A proceeding to review in the Circuit Court of Macon County an order of the Commission requiring the Wabash Railroad Company to construct a new station at Macon, Missouri. The order of the Commission was affirmed by the Circuit Court of Macon County, August, 1915, and an appeal taken by the Wabash Railroad Company to the Supreme Court of the State. This cause was argued and submitted to the Supreme Court at the April Term, 1916. The opinion of the Supreme Court, since rendered, reversed the judgment of the Circuit Court, such opinion holding that there was no evidence before the Commission. that there was reasonable necessity for the construction of a new depot at Macon.

North Jefferson Interlocker Case: Case No. 911, styled in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, as State ex rel. The Chicago and Alton Railroad Co. v. Public Service Commission et al. A proceeding to review an order of the Commission requiring the installation of an interlocker at the railroad crossing of the Chicago & Alton Railroad and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway companies at North Jefferson, Missouri. Public Service Commission, instituted to review orders of the Commission directing said Company to restore light and power currents to complainants. The Commission's orders were set aside by the judgments of the Circuit Court on November 8, 1917, and the Commission has been granted an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Mooney Case: Case No. 1199, styled in the Jefferson County Circuit Court as the Missouri Southern Railroad Company v. Public Service Commission and others. Certiorari proceeding to review an order of the Commission requiring the Missouri Southern Railroad Company to charge and collect no higher rates for the transportation of carload shipments over its industrial spurs Nos. 1 and 2, than authorized by law to charge for like shipments, like distances over its main line. The case was by change of venue taken to Jefferson County and there after trial, argument and submission on briefs, the court on October 20, 1917, affirmed the Commission's order. An appeal was granted the Railroad Company to the Supreme Court.

RAILROAD RATE DEPARTMENT.

No change has been made in this department during the past year. The Department consists of a Chief Rate Expert, a Rate Clerk and a Stenographer.

Duties of the Department: In this Department are the files of tariffs of all transportation companies and it is the duty of the Department to check these tariffs when filed, to see that they comply with the statutes of the State and the orders of the Commission. It is the Department's duty to report all increases in rates to the Commission and see that due notice thereof is given to interested parties, so that complaints for suspension of rates may be filed before tariffs become effective. All informal complaints against the service of transportation companies, other than grade crossings, are handled by this Department and during the past year the greater portion of the time of the Department has been taken up with questions dealing with the service of the carriers.

This Department checks all rate exhibits introduced in evidence in rate cases where the public or the Commission is a party to the case, and it is its duty to see that full evidence is introduced in rate cases, so that the Commission may be thoroughly advised before passing upon such questions.

This Department presents all complaints in the name of the Commission to the Interstate Commerce Commission covering interstate rates and prepares the testimony and exhibits, submits the case at the hearing and prepares briefs for final submission.

Tariffs Suspended: Section 48 of the Public Service Commission law authorizes the Commission to suspend changes in rates under certain conditions. This provision of the statute has been invoked many times since the Commission came into existence and in the past year it was invoked in a number of important cases. The lines operating from St. Louis to the southeast part of the State filed a general advance in their rates, the tariffs being suspended and the case still pending before the Commission. The Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis, including all the terminal companies operating at St. Louis, filed tariffs increasing rates to as high as 300 per cent. These tariffs were suspended and the case has not been formally submitted.

A new method of determining weights upon live stock was proposed by the carriers in tariff form, tariffs being suspended and later withdrawn by the carriers.

Rules governing reconsignment of freight, that is the changing of the consignee or destination after shipment had started, were filed in tariff form and upon protest, were suspended. The case has been finally submitted, but not decided by the Commission.

Many tariffs involving changes affecting only certain towns or certain industries, were filed, hearings held and decisions issued, but as the principles involved are not general, space will not be taken to discuss such cases.

Informal Complaints: All complaints filed with the Commission against transportation companies, are submitted to this Department for informal handling. This handling is either by correspondence or by personal investigation of an employe of this Department, and pending such investigation, the complaints are known as correspondence complaints. The shipping public secures a greater benefit from the result of these informal complaints, upon the whole, than are secured from formal complaints, as these informal complaints often disclose practices which are general throughout the State but not contrary to any rule of law or order of the Commission. The investigation results in calling such practices to the attention of the officials of the carriers and in such instances they are speedily removed.

Questions of train service, inadequate depot facilities, inadequate side track facilities, live stock loading chutes, and service in general, are handled in this way.

As an example of the above, complaint was received that the movement of live poultry to the St. Louis market was being delayed, due to express companies not promptly returning empties. An employe of this Department was immediately sent to St. Louis and on investigation found that, due to rush of other business, empty coops had not been forwarded out of St. Louis for more than twelve days. This matter was taken up with the general officials of the express company and as a result, arrangements were made for these coops to be handled in stock cars, and within three days the entire accumulation had been forwarded.

A complaint against service at Carthage was received and an employe of the Department sent to that point, conference was held between the Business Men's Association and officials of the express company, resulting in an increase of the working force at that point and the change of method, which eliminated the complaints.

Passenger Train Service: Account of the necessities of the United States government in the movement of troops, munitions and supplies, it has been found necessary for the railroads of the United States to discontinue many passenger trains in order to supply equipment for the movement of soldiers and motive power for the movement of freight. The Missouri lines, together with all other western lines, have been called on to supply not only passenger coaches, but motive power equipment to assist the lines in the east. This has resulted in numerous trains being discontinued in Missouri or in the operation of mixed freight and passenger trains in lieu of State passenger trains. Every such change has been thoroughly investigated by this Commission and this Department has assisted in these investigations, recommending changes in such schedules so as to give to the people of the districts affected, the best possible schedule with the power and equipment available.

Car Shortage: During the past seven months, and in fact during the entire year, a serious car shortage has effected the entire country and has been felt to no little extent in the State of Missouri. This has been caused to a large extent by the movement for account of the government, as well as the increased commercial development brought about by the war conditions. The statutes of this State impose upon the carriers a duty of furnishing equipment when ordered, except in times of car shortage and then requires that the available equipment be equitably distributed.

This Department has handled no less than 500 complaints covering discrimination in furnishing empty cars and all of these have been thoroughly investigated and in most instances, satisfactorily adjusted.

There is no law or order of the Commission relative to the manner in which cars shall be ordered and the records thereof maintained, and to remedy this a proceeding has been instituted by this Commission to require the carriers to maintain at each station and at each division headquarters, a permanent record showing cars ordered and furnished. When this record is properly established, it will greatly reduce the claims of discrimination and will afford the Commission's inspectors an opportunity to thoroughly investigate each complaint and ascertain if the carriers are complying with the law.

General Results: Through informal complaints, three stations have been constructed, several agents installed at non-agency stations, free delivery limits of express companies extended at five points and material reductions in rates by removal of discrimination, have been secured.

The number of overcharge expense bills handled by this Department shows a decrease each year. The agents of the carriers in Missouri now thoroughly understand the tariffs and little cause for overcharge exists. Since the last report of the Commission, a joint tariff applicable between all of the principal carriers in Missouri has been issued by Agent E. B. Boyd, and every agent in the State is in possession of the joint rate to or from any other station in the State. A number of the carriers are working on a strictly Missouri tariff which will contain all of the rates applicable via that carrier's lines on Missouri intrastate shipments and when these have been prepared by all the carriers in Missouri, there will be no just excuse for any overcharge.

Express Companies: The only complaints that have arisen during the past year have treated of free delivery limits, delay in service, loss or damage, and complaints relative to rates on milk and cream shipments. The general schedule of rates adopted by this Commission in 1914 has proven very satisfactory, and although in existence for more than three years, there has been but five complaints received by the Commission against these rates.

Formal Cases Handled During the Year: There was filed with the Commission during the year 1917, sixty-nine formal cases which concerned the work of this Department. The major portion of these cases have been decided by the Commission.

During the current year the mandate of the Supreme Court came down in Cases 492 to 505 and the freight rates involved therein became effective on June 1, 1917, and concurrently therewith the joint line freight rates applicable on both class and commodity traffic became effective.

Cases Before the Interstate Commerce Commission: The complaint filed against the Missouri Live Stock rates has been decided by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Commission held that the State and interstate rate should be the same and prescribed a rate as a reasonable maximum rate which is somewhat higher than the rate heretofore prescribed by this Commission. The Interstate Commerce Commission has divided the State of Missouri into three districts, first, that territory lying on the north of the Rock Island Railroad from St. Louis to Kansas City, Missouri. This territory takes the 100 per cent basis. All other territory within 100 miles of St. Louis also takes the 100 per cent basis, while territory lying between 100 and 200 miles of St. Louis takes 5 per cent higher than the standard territory and territory lying between 200 and 300 miles takes 10 per cent higher than the standard territory.

If this schedule of rates became effective, it would create discrimination throughout the State and would cause lower rates for longer hauls from the southwest portion of the State when moving over the Missouri Pacific than is applicable from the same territory when moving via the Frisco. The new order is to become effective February 15, 1918.

There is still pending with the Interstate Commerce Commission complaints against the tie rates promulgated by this Commission, the case having been finally submitted some months ago and reopened for further testimony.

A careful investigation is made of all wrecks and accidents resulting in injury or death. The purpose of these investigations is to determine the cause and to apply corrective measures, rather than to fix the blame.

As a result of such investigations many highway grade crossings have been protected.

DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS AND ACCOUNTS.

This Department consists of a Chief Accountant, two Accountants, one Assistant Accountant and a Stenographer.

The regular activities of the Department might be classified as follows:

1. Audit of books and records of Steam Railroads, Electric Railroads, Express Companies, Telephone Companies, Gas, Electric, Water and Heating Utilities, in order to ascertain Original Cost, Capitalization, Income, Expenditures, Operating Statistics and Rate of Return to be used in Valuation, Capitalization, and Rate Making Cases.

2. Drafting Accounting Systems and forms of Annual Reports for Utilities.

3. Analyzing Accounting and Statistical exhibits and Evidence presented by Utilities in Valuation, Capitalization and Rate Making Cases.

4. Compiling Financial and Operating data from Annual Reports of Missouri Utilities for Other Commissions, Municipalities, Civic Leagues, Traffic Associations, Utilities, Brokers, Attorneys and sundry petitioners for such information.

5. Compiling Comparative Statistical data from Annual Reports of Utilities.

6. Examining and Recording verified Semi-Annual Reports of realization from bond and Stock issues authorized by the Commission and the distribution of such proceeds.

7. Advising verbally and by correspondence the various Utilities in matters pertaining to Accounts and Statistics.

Audits Made During the Year:

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company—St. Louis Exchange.

This investigation consisted of a verification of additions and betterments to the St. Louis Exchange Plant from January 1, 1914, to March 31, 1917, and of the Operating Revenues and Expenses for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1917, in order to ascertain the results of operation and rate of return received under the rate schedule in effect during the test period set by the Commission.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company—Marshall Exchange.

This audit consisted of a verification of the Plant Account since its inception and of the Operating Revenues and Expenses for the two years ended December 31, 1916.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company—Springfield Exchange.

An audit of the Plant Account as far back as ascertainable and a verification of the Operating Revenues and Expenses for the two years ended December 31, 1916.

Louisiana Water Company—Louisiana, Missouri.

Capital City Water Company—Jefferson City, Missouri.

Water, Light and Transit Company—Carrollton, Missouri.

Complete balance sheet audits were made of the books of the three above companies and for comparative purposes the Profit and Loss Account was ascertained and shown, covering a period of three years in the case of the Capital City Water Company and two years for the other two Utilities.

Lamar Water and Electric Plant—Lamar, Missouri. An audit was made of the Plant Records of this Company, together with a verification of its operating Revenues and Expenses for the year ended November 30, 1916, and in collaboration with the Commission's Water and Light Rate Expert, a special study was made to show the cost of Fire Service and Water and Light Service rendered the municipality.

Kansas City Railways Company. The Accounting Staff made a cursory examination of Additions and Betterments, Operating Revenues, Operating Expenses and the basis of apportionment used by the Company in their application for an investigation to establish just suburban rates.

Missouri Passenger Rate Case. At the rehearing of the application for increases in Intrastate Passenger Rates by the principal carriers operating in and through this State, various exhibits were presented by the carriers. Such exhibits were made the subject of detailed analysis and exhaustive study by the Accounting Staff and many exhibits were prepared by the Department and testimony presented by the Commission's Chief Accountant.

Kansas City Heating Company. The Accounting Staff is at present engaged in making an audit of the above Company.

Drafting Uniform System of Accounts: The Public Service Commission law empowers the Commission to prescribe Uniform System of Accounts for utilities under its jurisdiction. In previous years this Department prepared a system of Accounts for Electric, Gas, Water and Heating utilities. During this year it has prepared a System of Accounts for Class D Telephone Companies. About 90 per cent of the telephone companies operating in Missouri are classed as "D" companies. The Accounting System so prescribed bears the approval of a committee representing the utilities.

As the companies classed under Class "D," of which there are about 500, are the smaller utilities (those whose average annual operating Revenue does not exceed $10,000) and as many of them kept practically no accounts whatever, it will entail a voluminous correspondence on this Department to secure and maintain the successful operation of the Accounting System prescribed. If this written advice could be supplemented by personal instruction of an Accountant from this Department, who could visit the various companies, open up a set of books and explain and install the system, it would be of great benefit not only to the utilities, but to the people they serve. Unfortunately, our depleted Accounting Staff has to devote its entire time to the audit of companies involved in rate and valuation cases.

Compiling Comparative Financial Statistical Data: This Department is the recipient of numerous inquiries from states, cities, commissions, utilities, professional men and statistical bodies for comparative data on Missouri utilities. This data is not currently kept and has to be compiled in each individual case, as our present force is compelled to give its entire time to auditing companies in rate and valuation cases. In 1915 and part of 1916, the Department consisted of eight employees, as compared with the present force of five. This retrenchment not only discontinued the work of examining and correcting Utilities' Annual Reports and compiling data therefrom, but at times has seriously handicapped the work of making audits of companies involved in rate and valuation cases.

On November 30, 1916, J. M. McShane resigned as Chief Accountant, to practice his profession of Public Accountant. He later accepted a very remunerative position with one of the large utilities of this State. The Commission promoted its Statistician, T. J. Murphy, to the position of Chief Accountant. Mr. McShane was the first Chief of this Department and in its embryonic state the many complicated problems of the formative period confronted him. His ability, energy and unselfish devotion to duty are best attested by the manner in which such problems were met and mastered.

Results Accruing from Standardization and Supervision of Accounts: The beneficial results attending the prescription of a Uniform System of Accounts, so drawn as to reflect necessary and vital information, are becoming more manifest daily. Not only is there a decided improvement in the Annual Reports of 1916 over those of 1915, but requests of many utilities for information contained in reports of other utilities of like service and similar capacity, show a gradual awakening to the storehouse of useful information now available from our files. Then again, the radical change in the attitude of certain utilities toward regulation is gratifying. Instead of being compelled to resort to threats of invoking the penalty provided by law for non-compliance with reporting requirements, there are now many inquiries for Annual Report blanks before same are secured from the printer. It is not pleasant to continually dwell on lack of men and resources, but in order that Missouri may hold her proper place among other State Commissions (and judging from the consensus of opinion of highly specialized experts who have appeared before various regulatory bodies throughout the United States, there are only two State Commissions which now rank with Missouri and both of these have been organized for a much longer time and have had the benefit of greatly superior financial resources) it would seem that a force sufficient to examine every Annual Report presented to the Commission, correct the errors found and advise the Utilities in such matters and at the same time compile comparative tables for distribution to the companies or to the public, would be of incalculable benefit. Not only would it be of great assistance to the utilities' management, to their owners and to the investing public, but to the people of the State receiving service from such companies. A comparative report of utilities will not only furnish a means of detecting inefficient management, extravagant use of fuel and supplies, over-capitalization and excessive overhead costs, but it will give the Commission valuable knowledge on average life data for depreciation purposes, average costs and average operating efficiency statistics. Any saving accruing from the dissemination of such information to the utilities of Missouri, will result in a saving to the people of the State.

Work of this nature in connection with the supervision over accounts kept and securities issued, will stabilize the market for such securities and result in better market price and cheaper capital. It will also result in better service from public utilities which, after all, is the desideratum from the viewpoint of the public.

Stock, Bond and Note Authorizations: Under the provisions of the Public Service Commission law, the Commission is empowered to require corporations to account for the disposition of the proceeds of all sales of Stocks, Bonds, Notes and other evidences of indebtedness, in such form and detail as it may deem advisable and to establish such rules and regulations as it may deem reasonable and necessary to insure the disposition of such proceeds for the purpose or purposes specified in its order.

In pursuance of this section of the law, the Commission requires Semi-Annual Reports from utilities receiving authority to issue securities, showing the amount realized from sales and disposition thereof. These reports are checked in this Department in order to ascertain whether the realization and disposition of moneys as well as all other conditions set forth in the orders, are properly compiled with.

The continuation of the European war and the entrance of the United States into the conflict have materially reduced the demand of the investing public for public utility securities. Capital, which under normal conditions would have sought outlet in this field, has been diverted to other channels. The unprecedented flotations of war bonds by the United States Government, and the urgent appeals for contributions to Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Belgian Relief and other patriotic and worthy causes, have to a large extent contributed toward decreasing the authorizations applied for during the past fiscal year as compared with the preceding years and even the preceding years were probably under normal as the enormous advances to foreign countries in the way of war loans tightened the market for utility securities.

The following Stock, Bond and Note issues have been authorized by the Commission for the period covered by this report:

DEPARTMENT OF GAS, ELECTRICITY, HEAT AND WATER

In reporting the happenings of the past year in relation to the classes of utilities with which this department deals, it is found that all the principal events are directly connected with results arising from war-time conditions. These conditions are now so well understood, because of the manner in which practically all industries have been affected, that it seems almost unnecessary to comment upon them. It would be rash to hazard a guess as to the effect on public utilities if the present war with the Central European Powers continues for another year, but so far as the past year is concerned it seems safe to say that no year since these utilities came into general existence has contained developments so important in their effects upon both the installation and the operation of such industries.

The first and still one of the most important developments was the abnormal rise in the price of materials and apparatus. The demand of munition factories has diverted from the ordinary industries a very large number of skilled workmen who cannot quickly be replaced, even if the men were available. Likewise the materials ordinarily used in the manufacture of machinery and supplies has been needed for the manufacture of munitions. The result has been a shortage in practically every industry contributing to the construction and operation of the utilities.

Among the first to be affected were the waterworks companies. The chemicals used in clarifying and sterilizing water for public use; are nearly all demanded in some form for war purposes. In consequence, the price within a few months increased from a few per cent to more than a thousand per cent for some chemicals. It has become increasingly difficult to obtain machinery. Not only has the price advanced enormously but delays between the time orders were placed and deliveries received have been growing longer and more vexatious. The result has been serious, and some of the larger Missouri utilities have reached a more or less critical situation, finding that demands for light and power have outgrown their capacity before adequate provision could be made to meet such demands.

These conditions have also limited the companies in making extensions into new territory. In the last annual report it was intimated that the question of uniform service extension rules would have early consideration. It was impossible to devise any uniform and just rule under the circumstances and this has therefore been postponed.

Another manner in which utilities of all classes have been affected is in the increased cost of fuel and labor. It is useless to comment upon the rise in prices of coal and oil. This has become a matter of daily comment, as has also the increase in wages made absolutely necessary to meet the increased cost of living.

All these conditions are now contributing toward a reversal of the tendencies of the past generation. Year after year manufacturing costs were being decreased and machinery of greater efficiency being built, the companies were acquiring more customers and as a whole conditions were reducing the rates of public utilities and their service becoming more and more a matter of daily necessity. Within the past year we find this tendency reversed. Machinery costs more to install and operating costs have advanced. It seems unfortunate that the ground gained must to some extent be retraced. Where formerly the rates filed with this Commission showed a healthy tendency toward a constant reduction, there are now almost daily requests for increases in rate schedules.

While these rate increases are meeting with some opposition, it is evident that the corporations are appealing to their customers and in general are securing a reasonable amount of co-operation. As a whole, however, the increases in rates, curtailment of service, and limitations of extensions are provoking a great deal of protest. The last annual report cited the decrease in the number of formal rate cases, to a point almost negligible in 1916. The year just closed indicates a sudden and pronounced increase. It is worthy of note that the complaints are not so much against existing rates, as against the failure to get service, or against proposed increases in rates.

It is likewise noticed that the number of informal complaints has increased many-fold over any preceding year. Such good results had been obtained in securing mutually satisfactory settlement of so many controversies through personal visits of the Commission's representatives that the Commission in September, 1917, added to the personnel of this department by creating the position of Assistant Electrical and Mechanical Engineer, for the purpose of having a well qualified person who might be free from the regular routine to give more attention to conditions in various localities and promote the early and inexpensive settlement of controversies, and especially to assist in securing compliance with the Public Service Commission law and the rules of the Commission pertaining to meters and quality of service. The results have exceeded expectations.

In accordance with the custom of previous years, the following summary of Gas, Electric, Heating and Water utilities operating in this State is presented herewith. Following this is a complete list of such utilities, showing their ownership and location. This shows a number of changes in the list presented in the last Annual Report.

It will be noticed that this list includes the municipally owned water plants although the last Legislature amended the Public Service Commission Act of 1913 by removing municipally owned water plants from the jurisdiction of this Commission. In many ways this is an unfortunate occurrence as the Commission does not now have the opportunity to collect and disseminate information which was of great value, nor does the Commission have the proper authority for collecting and preparing statistical data for the information of the citizens of the State and which was of great use to those in charge of the municipally owned plants and which was greatly appreciated by them. As a matter of fact, the action of the Legislature seems to have been based largely on a misapprehension of the possible or actual dealings of the Commission with such municipally owned water plants, since with possibly two exceptions the Commission's relation with such utilities consisted of gratuitous advice and assistance of various kinds rendered to those in charge of municipally owned water plants. Such assistance was promptly rendered through the requests of the Mayors or City Councils or Superintendents of the municipal plants in the settlement of controversies, formulation of reasonable rules or rate schedules, miscellaneous engineering advice, and standardization of conditions. This assistance was thoroughly appreciated by the recipients. Actual experience since the amendment was adopted appears to demonstrate that the tendency is again toward harmful or dissimilar practices which were being gradually ironed out, and the collection and dissemination of useful information is made impossible.

TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH DEPARTMENT.

The 1916 Annual Report relative to this department contained all information as to the number of employees and the duties required of the department, therefore a repetition of these facts will not be made herein.

Following is a summary of the work performed during the year ending November 30, 1917.

During the year 1917, 58 formal cases were filed with the Commission making telephone and telegraph companies defendants. At the beginning of the year 13 cases were pending, making the total number of cases considered during the year 71. Of this total 47 were disposed of, and 24 remain pending. The following table sets forth the principles involved in the cases settled.

Franchise, certificate of convenience and necessity	2
Physical connection	3
Rates, amount for service	2
Rates, increase in	4
Sales, consolidation of competitive plants and leases	1
Sales, transfer of property, not consolidation	18
Service, rules and practices in regard to	5
Service, application for telephone in railway station	1
Stock, issue of	11
Total	47

Informal Complaints: The number of informal complaints received during the year was 78, and with 4 which were pending at the beginning of the year made 82 cases to be disposed of. All but 7 have been disposed of according to the disposition given as follows:

Disposition.	Service, quality of.	Rates, Amount of.	Rules and terms of service.	Total.

Abandoned by complainant	11	4	7	22

Cause of action not established	11	3	5	19
No jurisdiction	3			3
Total	39	16	20	75
Pending				7
Total cases under consideration				82

Inspection of Property: Inspection was made of the property of the Peyton Telephone Exchange at Wellsville, in re Case No. 1212. This with a view of settling the case without a formal hearing. Complainant has asked for a continuance from time to time, and the case is still pending.

Inspection was also made of the Richland Telephone Company and the Richland Electric Light Company, account of wire interference. Later, a formal case, No. 1372, was filed in the matter and is now pending.

Appraisal of Property: Inventory and appraisal of the Springfield Exchange of the Missouri and Kansas Telephone Company (Southwestern Bell Telephone Company) Case No. 1141, was made and report filed.

Hearings Attended: Hearings of formal cases were attended outside of Jefferson City by the Telephone Engineer at the following places: Mexico, Mo., Cases 885 and 1054; Palmyra, Case 1200; Higginsville, Case 1297; Plattsburg, Cases 1325 and 1346; Springfield, Cases 1141 and 1236; Clarksdale, Cases 1275 and 1276; Gallatin, Case 1277.

In addition to the above hearings the Engineer attended all hearings at Jefferson City relating to telephone or telegraph matters.

General: It is impossible to make a detailed report of all the work done by the department. The vast amount of correspondence, filing of tariffs and rate schedules, personal interviews relating to improved telephone and telegraph facilities and service are all too numerous to account for.

Record of Companies: The records of this department show 488 telephone companies as having filed rate schedules. This number of companies represent 736 telephone exchanges in cities, towns and rural communities of this State.

The change of greatest importance was that of the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone Company and the Missouri and Kansas Telephone Company, consolidated, and now operating under the corporate name of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. The new company controls all of the exchanges formerly operated by the two companies first named.

Definition of Classes of Telephone Service: It seems advisable to give a definition for each class of telephone installed by the smaller companies for their benefit, as follows:

Business—Direct Line. By this term is meant a line which has but one telephone connected on it, which telephone is installed in a place of business. The line may be metallic (2 wires), or grounded (1 wire).

Business—Party Line. By this term is meant a line which has more than one telephone connected on it. There are two classes of business party lines—Two-party and Four-party. The line may be metallic (2 wires), or grounded (1 wire).

Business—Extension Sets. By this term is meant a telephone instrument, either with ringer or without, which is connected in multiple with the main station. Such instrument may be placed in the same room with the main station or in an adjoining room.

Residence—Direct Line. By this term is meant a telephone installed in a residence with the same character of construction as business direct line.

Residence—Party Line. Same as business party line except that it applies to residence telephones.

Residence—Extension Sets. Same as business extension sets except that it applies to residence telephones.

Message Rate Service. This is a form of service given by larger exchanges on which a record of calls is kept. It is usually furnished at a stated price for a certain number of messages, and all in excess of that number is charged for at so much per message.

Additional Charge for Desk Set Equipment. Where a desk set or portable instrument is desired in place of the stationary wall telephone, an additional charge is made per month.

Following is a list of the companies operating in Missouri, showing the exchanges operated by each.

REPORTS OF THE COMMISSION.

The "Reports of the Public Service Commission of the State of Missouri" are the official publications required by section 19 of the Public Service Commission law. Four bound volumes and five advance sheets to volume five of the Reports of the Public Service Commission of Missouri have been issued. Volume four and the advance sheets to volume five came from the press during the current year. A total of three hundred and fifty-seven cases are reported in these reports to date, being distributed as follows: Eighty-four in volume one, seventy-six in volume two, sixty in volume three and one hundred and two in volume four, and thirty-five in the advance sheets to volume five. Among the cases thus reported are to be found discussions and determinations of questions of interest to public service corporations and the public—questions dealing with public service regulation, affecting and prescribing the rights, duties, privileges and obligations of the public service corporations on the one hand and the public on the other. In greater detail, the cases treat of railroad, street railroad, interurban railroad, electric, gas, water, heating, telephone and telegraph utilities, and among the more important principles passed upon are matters relating to accounting, apportionment of expenses, etc., certificates of public convenience and necessity, interstate and intrastate commerce, constitutional law, construction and facilities of public utility plants and systems, contracts for rates and service, who are common carriers, what constitutes a public utility, crossings of highways with tracks of common carriers and intersections of common carrier tracks, depreciation of public utility property, discrimination in rates and service, duty of public utilities, eminent domain, franchise provisions, going value, independent services rendered by public utilities, intercorporate relations between utilities, jurisdiction of the Commission, meters and meter rates, monopoly and competition, operating conditions of public utilities, operating expenses, overhead expenses, payment of accounts, pleadings, practice and procedure before the Commission, public convenience and necessity, rates of public utilities, reorganization of public utilities, return allowed on fair present value, rules and regulations governing rates and service, security issues, service of public utilities, stations (construction, equipment, maintenance and employees), time schedules of common carriers, transfer and sale of public utilities, transit privileges, valuation of public utility property, working capital and others. A reading of the cases reported reveals the painstaking and careful manner in which the Commission has endeavored to reach a just solution of the many intricate problems presented. While reluctant to assert jurisdiction and exercise control where the same does not appear to have been clearly conveyed, the Commission, once convinced that the jurisdiction exists, unhesitatingly exercises the powers given it by the Legislature—whether the public service corporation or the public, or both, be affected thereby.

For a thorough understanding, it is not amiss to mention the fact that the cases appearing in the Reports of the Public Service Commission of this State are indicative of only a very small portion of the vast amount of work transacted by the Commission. Formal cases, wherein an order only is entered; informal complaints, i. e., complaints handled through correspondence; general orders; conference rulings and other actions by the Commission are not found in the aforementioned reports. Opinions are prepared only in those formal cases—cases governed by the Rules of Practice and Procedure and Forms Governing Matters before the Commission—which are deemed of sufficient importance or involve the solution of such intricate questions as to call for a careful and full statement of facts and conclusions. These cases are to be found in the reports now under discussion. In other formal cases, wherein the facts present no contested question or are not so complicated as to demand such careful statement to make plain the conclusion reached but are of such a nature as to readily admit of being set forth in an order, an opinion is not written. These cases form by far the greater portion of formal cases—in fact, the ratio being about six to one—and the orders in connection therewith do not appear in these reports. Furthermore, many hundred complaints are made informally, and are amicably settled through correspondence. From their very nature they do not demand action by the Commission as a commission. General orders and conference rulings, each, take care of many questions presented to the Commission for action. Thus, only cases of value (and all of these) are to be found in the reports.

These reports are of aid in the efficient management of public utilities within the State of Missouri and in the knowledge and interpretation of the laws of this State having to do with these utilities. They should be of special interest to operating officials of public utilities, to accountants and engineers having public utility work and lawyers representing such utilities before the Commission and in the courts.

A charge of $2.50 per volume is made for the Reports of the Public Service Commission of the State of Missouri. This amount includes receipt of advance sheets and bound volume—no difference in charge being made if bound volume only is desired. Separate advance sheets may be had at 35c per copy. The amount ($2.50) is based on the cost of publication—the object being to reimburse the State for the actual cost of publication without any view to profit.

The Commission is compiling an annotated edition of the Public Service Commission law, showing amendments therein to date.

GENERAL ORDERS.

During the past year the Commission has had under consideration adoption of several general orders, two of which, affecting telephone utilities, have been adopted. These are noted below.

Before the adoption of a proposed general order a copy of the same is served on all parties who may be affected thereby, and notice of the date of holding a public hearing on the proposed order is given. At the hearing the proposed order is discussed by the parties interested and modifications and changes are suggested, which, after being duly considered by the Commission, are adopted or rejected, and the proposed order as revised is then adopted. After the adoption of a general order a copy of it is served on those interested and their actions in the future so far as affected, are governed thereby.

A discussion covering the general orders heretofore considered by the Commission is to be found in the Fourth Annual Report (for the year 1916) at page 85.

The following general orders were before the Commission for consideration during the year ending November 30, 1917, and have been adopted:

General Order No. 21.

In the matter of a uniform system of accounts for Class A, B and C telephone corporations (Case No. 937, Circular No. 38, adopted November 19, 1917).

General Order No. 22.

In the matter of a uniform system of accounts for Class D telephone corporations (Case No. 937, Circular No. 39, adopted November 19, 1917).

FEES COLLECTED.

In accordance with the provisions of Section 21 of the Public Service Commission law, this Commission has collected and paid into the State Treasury during the twelve-months period beginning December 1, 1916, and ending November 30, 1917, $43,102.00.

FORMER EMPLOYEES IN THE SERVICE.

Several employes of the Commission, employes who rendered faithful and efficient service to the general public of this State and to this Commission in the performance of the duties assigned them, have left the employ of the State to enter the service of the Federal Government in the National Army. Each has so demeaned himself as to cause those who know him to place the greatest confidence in his future conduct as a man; and it is a small service, indeed, that we do to here give them mention:

Paul Bayliss, Second Lieutenant, Eighth Regiment Mounted Engineers, Camp Baker, Ft. Bliss, Texas.

E. E. Towles, Second Lieutenant, Company C, Third Depot Battalion, Signal Corps, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

E. J. Cahill, First Sergeant, Machine Gun Company, 356th Infantry, Camp Funston, Kansas.

Clarence F. Kouns, Corporal, Headquarters Company, 356th Infantry, Camp Funston, Kansas.

James C. Edwards, Corporal, Company C, 130th Machine Gun Battalion, Camp Doniphan, Ft. Sill, Oklahoma.

In addition to the foregoing, S. R. Morrow, Assistant Engineer, has been commissioned First Lieutenant in the Engineering Corps, and is with the Commission awaiting assignment.
